Personal skills and interests

My personal interests have always included Archeology and Anthropology.

I have collaborated with the museum "Pigorini" in Rome, Studying antique human remains and dentures.

The two major projects in which I have participated are relative to antique dentures, identifying gender, age and major Pathologies; and trauma (skull trauma in particular).

I have also studied Forensics, during a Master's Course, Held in Budapest (aug.2006), sponsored by FASE, The Association of European Forensic Anthropologists and Labanof, studying the effects of major incidents, (Including airline accidents) on human beings, and talking About personal identification and international protocols.

Other interests include reading and skiing.
